The Price is Right!

Set on 2000 m2 this home would make a perfect holiday home or retirement destination and let's face it, the price is right!

A low maintenance building with a colour bond roof and vinyl clad outside, you will need to do nothing for years. There is a veranda across the front of the building and a large undercover entertainment area out the back, giving you lots of choice for places to take in the views.

There is a carport with a partially closed off shed attached which could be the beginning of a workshop for tinkering.

The home has everything you need.
Open plan living with the lounge/Kitchen combined.
The bathroom features a shower over the bath and vanity all fresh and...
